Developments Of Day Reveal Wars Not Won

Situation In Pacific And Europe Indicate Much Fighting To Come

JAPS REPORT NEW LANDING IN CHINA

By J. C. OESTRICH
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

Surrender of Polish patriots in Warsaw to the Germans and indications that the last Chinese-held coastal port on the Asiatic mainland soon will be in Japanese hands emphasized today that the wars in Europe and the Pacific are far from won.

But both these setbacks were complicated by Allied progress elsewhere and neither obviously can have any salutary effect upon eventual United Nations victory.

Tokyo Claim

Tokyo blasted the air with announcement that a Japanese invasion force, advancing along China's east coast, was on the verge of recapturing Foochow, capital of Fukien province and the last major seaport remaining in Chinese hands.
Foochow lies across the narrow Formosa strait less than 150 miles from the northern tip of Japanese-held Formosa.

There have been persistent reports that the Japanese, soundly beaten in the southwestern Pacific and menaced by new American bases creeping ever closer to their home islands, may eventually withdraw the bulk of their forces to the Chinese mainland and endeavor to build a sort of "Siegfried line" over many miles of China territory as a last-ditch safeguard.

Their Pacific sea communications already are to a large measure severed and when the expected American invasion of the Philippines takes place Japan's offensive strength in any direction but against China will have been reduced to a minimum.

Chinese In Confusion

Tokyo reported Chinese forces in the Foochow area in a state of great confusion and said that strong Japanese units had carried out numerous surprise landings along the China coast north of the harbor striking late last week.

Loss of Foochow may be a serious blow to China's morale. The Japanese seized it in April, 1939, but Chinese forces recaptured the town some six months later. According to Tokyo object of the new offensive was to thwart "enemy America's"
plans to land on the China coast from the Pacific and sever our communications with the southern region.

Gov. Edward Martin today presented October 27 "Navy Day" and appealed to Pennsylvanians to buy additional war bonds that day to honor the Navy and her gallant personnel. "With a long history dating back to the beginning of our country, the Navy is adding new glories," the governor stated.

Another honor roll of men and women in service has been erected in the district. At No. 5 Mine, near Leesburg, is the latest addition to the long list of honor rolls that have been established in the vicinity of Lawrence county. It is a neat attractive display along the highway intersection on the Leesburg-Grove City road.

Rain of the night brought down an immense amount of leaves and many of the streets provide a real hazard as a result. Cautious driving is needed on streets littered with wet leaves, experts advise.

Huge Secret Arsenal Operated By Nazis, Captured By Yanks

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE U.S. THIRD ARMY
ON THE MOSELLE FRONT,
France, Oct. 2.—Delayed—A secret arsenal capable of supplying the artillery demands of all Nazi armies in the west was uncovered today when American third army troops investigated Moselle valley territory captured from the Germans after three days of fighting.

Great mines and steel plants, both on the surface and under the ground, were unmasked to reveal the secret war cradle from which the Wehrmacht drew its strength as intensive bombing neutralized the industrial Ruhr district.

Fifth Army In Italy Is Moving Toward Bologna

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Oct. 3.—American fifth army forces smashing through the central sector of the Nazi Gothic line drove toward Bologna today after capturing the vital junction town of Monghidoro on the main route to that university city.

Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's forces battered aside strong German opo-sition in their drive through adverse weather to score a new penetration into Nazi territory behind the major Apennine defense line.

Bad Weather

British eighth army forces on the Adriatic flank of the Italian front were held to minor activity by increasingly bad weather.

Planes of the Mediterranean air force pounded at railroad marshalling yards and other military targets in the Po valley in a night attack.

Coastal aircraft attacking shipping in the northern Adriatic and the Balkan air force sent planes against Nazi troop concentrations and gun positions and hit shipping
in the Dalmatian port of Zara.

The adverse weather however prevented all strategic and tactical aerial operations.

An official naval announcement revealed that the British battleship Black Prince shelled the Malme archipelago on Crete on Sept. 13 and Oct.
1 in connection with the stepped up allied operations in the Aegean sea.

NAZI LEADERS ARE FLEEING IN SUBS

German National Committee In Moscow Broadcasts Reports Of Fleeing Nazis

LONDON, Oct. 3.—(INS)—The German National committee in Moscow broadcasting over the Russian radio asserted today that Nazi leaders were escaping abroad in submarines.

The Russian broadcast said that U-boats were putting out of Italian and North sea ports, after taking aboard single passengers with much luggage.

The committee warned the crews of the submarines that the Nazi leaders and their agents must not be allowed to escape, saying:
"Take the passengers on board.
Do not show your suspicions. Set a course for the nearest British or French port. It is your duty to prevent the escape of the Nazi leaders and the agents who are sent out to pave the way."

Would Investigate Reported Gifts To Sponsors Of Ships

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(INS)— Sen. Harold H. Burton (R) Ohio, said today that the senate committee should be interested in having a "statement of all the facts" of the disclosure that wives and daughters of New Deal officials and others have received diamond bracelets worth in some cases, more than $2,000 for sponsoring wartime ships.
Burton, a member of the commerce committee which has jurisdiction over affairs of the maritime commission, said he considered the gifts, reported to cost more than three million dollars, "an appropriate matter" for congress to investigate.

Alsace-Lorraine Nazi Families Are Rounded Up

Hundreds Of German Civilians Were Transplanted Into Area By Hitler

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

ON THE MOSELLE FRONT, Oct.
3.—Hundreds of German civilians were transplanted in regions west of the Moselle under Hitler's plan for rapid Germanizing of Alsace-Lorraine through trusted Nazi families are being rounded up daily by the third army.

Working in close harmony with the French forces of the interior authorities are clipping the claws of Hitler's potential fifth column behind the allied lines by immobilizing all Nazi elements in special internment centers.

Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's
September advance was so rapid that a large fraction of the transplanted German colonization groups were left behind by the fleeing Wehrmacht. In the section left behind there were entire units and component parts of the Nazi party, including Nazi administrative officials and whole labor front setup.

Keeping in mind the possibility that some of these Nazi civilian elements might have been abandoned to form underground cells and become part of the German fifth column within France for the next war, a strict surveillance was instituted on all German families of long or short residence in the Moselle region.

apparent in the rich mining

Government Is Established For Angaur Island

By RICHARD V. HALLER
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 3.—American military government was holding sway today on Angaur island in the Palau group while assault forces
against isolated pockets of fanatical Japanese on Angaur and on Peleliu, six miles to the north.

A Pacific fleet headquarters communique revealing that American military government had been established on Angaur Sept. 30, also disclosed that 10,151 Japanese had been killed in the Palau and that 187 enemy prisoners have been taken.

Headquarters indicated that only sporadic resistance remains on the invaded islands and that a "few fanatical enemy troops" are continuing to oppose the hard-charging Americans with small arms fire.

Heavy Flak

Meanwhile, on Sept. 30, Corsairs of the Second Marine Aircraft Wing bombed the airfield on Babelthuap island to the north of Peleliu. Anti-aircraft fire was reported.

Non-Stop Air Raids On Nazis On Huge Scale

(BULLETIN)
LONDON, Oct. 3.—(INS)—The non-stop battering of communication facilities inside Germany roared forward today when more than 1,000 Fortresses and Liberators of the Eighth U.S. Air Force rocked the southern reaches of the Reich with high explosive bombs.

Factories turning out vehicles and other military transport facilities for the Wehrmacht shared the brunt of the attack with airbases.
An official statement announced.

Germans May Launch Bombs From Norway

LONDON, Oct. 4.—(INS)—Stockholm reports to the London Press suggested today that the Germans may attempt to launch long-range rocket bombs from Norway.

The Nazis at the same time were said to have carried out extensive experiments with atom bombs.

One dispatch to the Daily Telegraph said that the Germans were making mysterious preparations on the summit of Gaustoppen, a 5,000 foot high mountain in southern Norway.

Norwegians were quoted as reporting that the Germans for several weeks have been transporting armored steel plates for reinforced concrete emplacements they are building on the summit, probably consisting of launching equipment for a "long-range robot weapon."

Large Barn Near Grant City Is Fire Destroyed

Loss In Blaze On Perry Highway Last Night Is Around $7,000

Fire again hit in Slippery Rock township Monday night when the large bank barn of Grover B. Hock-enberry on Route 19 between Dixie Inn and Grant City was totally destroyed.

The loss estimated at $7,000 includes the barn, a pump house, and the following animals and materials. Two cows, one bull, two heifers, 40 tons of hay, 400 bushels of oats, 75 bushels of wheat, a milking machine, pump house motor,
one silo of ensilage, another silo partially destroyed. A horse was saved and fortunately the farm machinery was outside the barn.

The cause of the fire is unknown.
Mr. Hockenberry is certain it was not caused by a lantern as there wasn't an oil lantern near the barn, electricity being used, nor was there any one in the barn smoking.

Mr. Hockenberry was not at the barn when the fire was discovered.
His son Robert Hockenberry being there, engaged in the evening milking. About 7:30 o'clock he opened the barn door and found the straw stack blazing. Mr. Hockenberry saw the flames from a distance and hurried to the barn but was unable to save anything but the horse.

State police have added the Hock-enberry fire to their list of investigations. Two school house fires which occurred in Slippery Rock township over the week end are already under investigation by the state officers. Whether any connection exists in the school fires and this latest blaze is not known.

Jackie Cooper And Three Others Are Acquitted

(BULLETIN)
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 3.— (INS)—Jackie Cooper, Hollywood film star, and three co-defendants today were acquitted in juvenile court of charges of contributing to the delinquency of two young girls at a hotel party last July 22.

The co-defendants with Cooper were George Bender, 24, of Sieffield, Ill., Pauline Frederick, 19, of South Bend, and Ole Lovery, a waiter at the hotel.

Cooper and Bender are naval V-12
trainees at Notre Dame University.
All of the defendants were in court
when Juvenile Referee Albert R.
Doyle began reading the lengthy opinion.

Their eyes were downcast.
But in the first few words they sensed what the verdict was to be.
Cooper raised his eyes and smiled,
listening intently as the judge read.

Drive On Siegfried Line Will Determine If War Ends In 1944

(Written Especially For International News Service)

The present tremendous offensive of the 1st American Army against the Siegfried line north of Aachen is undoubtedly designed to write an answer to the question as whether the war in Europe can be finished during 1944 or must be carried over into next year.

According to traditions of European warfare, derived from long experience, only a few weeks more suitable weather on the western front for active military operations can be expected. It is probable, therefore, that while the fighting weather lasts, Allied pressure will continue at a constantly increasing pitch in the endeavor to bring the final break in Nazi defenses before the paralyzing hand of winter puts an end to fighting until spring.

Winter Usually Ends Fighting

Winter has brought fighting to at least a temporary close in France and Germany since Caesar went into winter quarters in November, more than 2,000 years ago, following his first campaign in Northern Gaul. It is not the cold that brings operations to a halt, but the mud

First Army Drives Half Way Through Siegfried Line
North Of Aachen

NAZI RESISTANCE REPORTED HEAVY

BULLETIN
SUPREME HEADQUAR-TERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Oct. 3.—(INS)—Castles and futile German counterattacks designed to stem American First and Third Army advances which have driven deeply into Siegfried Line defenses were announced by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters today.

As field dispatches reported American First Army troops
nine miles inside the Siegfried Line on a 10 1/2-mile front and Third Army forces hammering away only five miles from Metz, headquarters described Nazi counter-thrusts which were continued despite losses.

SUPREME HEADQUAR- TERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Oct. 3.—United States

First Army armored and infantry forces drove half-way through the Siegfried line defenses north of Aachen today in slashing assaults which the Germans said carried the Yanks forward a distance of nine miles.

The progress of the troops of Lieut. Gen. Courtney H.
Hodges deep into the Siegfried fortifications was reported in a frontline dispatch by International News Service war correspondent
Richard Tregaskis.

Germans Fight Hard

The Yank raids were scored in the face of determined German resistance. The Germans sought in vain to check the advance with artillery, mortar and small arms fire.

Gen. Hodges' troops scored major progress in continued offensive action in the battle area due east of Maastricht where the Yanks crossed the Wurm river yesterday and are forcing a salient into the German lines approximately 10 miles north of Aachen.

The German DNB agency which said that the Yanks had penetrated into Nazi positions for a depth of nine miles after crossing the Wurm and cutting the rail line which runs parallel to the Siegfried line, had stated their front to a distance of 10 and one-half miles.

An official spokesman at headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said that the new First Army attack still is not regarded as a general offensive.

Liberate Towns

North of the new penetration into the Siegfried line in the Netherlands near the Reich frontier, Allied forces liberated the town of Ober and Overloon, southeast of Nijmegen, and pressed forward on Meijel.

(A Reuter correspondent with the British Second Army said tank forces had entered Meijel, six miles from the Maas (Meuse) river.)

At headquarters it was said that the Germans had failed to attempt any counter-attacks in the Nijmegen-Arnhem sector and that the situation there was unchanged.

Chicago Detective Is Shot To Death By Fellow Officers

Detective Killed By Fellow Officers Who Mistake Him For Burglar

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—(INS)—A detective, Elwood Egan, 40, a veteran of 15 years on the police force, was shot and killed today when fellow officers mistook him for a petty thief.

Egan was killed after he and his partner, John Rich, dressed in civilian clothes, joined police in answering a burglar alarm.

The uniformed policemen, Albert Timin and Rudolph Frana, drove into an alley near the garage from which the alarm came while the detectives halted nearby and opened fire on two youths running away.

Timin and Frana returned to investigate the shooting and when a neighbor yelled "There goes the robbers," Frana fired three times, one bullet striking Egan. He bled to death before reaching a hospital.

AL SMITH IS STILL IN CRITICAL SHAPE

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—(INS)—The condition of former Gov. Alfred E.
Smith was reported "unchanged and still critical" today at Rockefeller Institute hospital, where the 69-year-old former presidential nominee has been under special treatment since September 22.

Smith was taken ill in mid-August, and his physician, Dr. Raymond Sullivan, described him as a "gravely sick man."

NO MORE OF THIS IN DOVER

Free at last to leave the caves in which they have been living for four years, the men, women and children of Dover, Deal and Falkstone are now returning to their homes and great is their rejoicing now that the last guns have been silenced at Can Gris Nez. One of the most recent pictures taken of a "cave-dweller" British family, shows a mother preparing a little Tommy for the "day of liberation."

Jap Positions On Celebes Are Again Bombed

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S
HQ. New Guinea, Oct. 3.—Vicious new aerial blows which shattered Japanese airfields in the heavily bombed Celebes were revealed today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Continuing the devastating air bombardment which has battered Jap positions in the Celebes for weeks, U.S. heavy bombers leveled a crushing assault at Menado airdrome, cratering the airstrip runway and kindling fires which sent smoke from burning enemy supplies
a mile in the air.

Attack Jap Shipping

Night reconnaissance planes attacking Jap shipping in the same area sank two small freighters off
the northern coast.

Polish Underground Forces In Warsaw Have Surrendered

(BULLETIN)
LONDON, Oct. 3.—(INS)—The Polish government in exile announced today that underground forces in Warsaw have surrendered to the Germans after exhausting their food and ammunition in a futile effort to beat back a greatly superior enemy force.

The announcement came after several hours of conflicting reports during which the Polish regime first denied that a surrender had taken place.

The admission of defeat revealed that the Poles laid down their arms at 8 p. m. Monday (2 p. m. Monday EWT) and quoted a final message from General Bor as stating:
"Orders were given to cease fighting after our ammunition and food were exhausted and in the face of overwhelming superiority by the enemy." No hint as to the fate of the Polish commander was given.

A late German dispatch, however, asserted that some units of the Partisans again have started fighting.

Arrangements For Pupils Of Schools Damaged By Fires

State Police Actively Working On Mystery Fires In Slippery Rock Township

Arrangements were made at a meeting of the Board of Directors of Slippery Rock township schools last night to turn the stage of Princeton high school into a classroom for the fire-damaged Aiken school. J. A. McClemonds, one of the directors, said this morning.

The temporary classroom will be needed only a week or so, until the regular school house can be repaired. Students from to Hogue school, which was completely destroyed by fire Sunday night, the night after the Aiken school fire, have not yet been provided for, Mr. McClemonds said.

Directors are trying to get transportation to take them to Shadyside school, also in Slippery Rock township.

State police and the county detective are working on the case, and are hopeful of solving the mystery in the fires.

Committee Plans Wednesday Drive For Registration

Driving for increased registration in the city of New Castle, the Citizens Political Action Committee is planning to make Wednesday a special Registration Day throughout the city. Dr. Leon S. Marshall, chairman of the committee, announced this morning.

Cars will be furnished for those who are unable to get to the Court House themselves, and special workers of the committee will be contacting unregistered citizens. Those who desire to be taken to the Court House at any time during the day or evening may contact Howard Montgomery at the United Steelworkers hall, John Shaw, or James Travers.

Highland W.C.T.U. will meet for a Family Night at the home of Mrs. D. L. Ferguson, 411 East Sheridan avenue, on Thursday evening, October 5, at 7:45 o'clock, and not this evening as was announced in Monday's News.

HUGE SECRET ARSENAL OPERATED BY NAZIS, CAPTURED BY YANKS

Schmitt factory discovered recently, covered half a dozen acres, but so strict was the secrecy surrounding it that American forces are convinced that they have penetrated one of Hitler's greatest secrets in making their discovery.

Discovery of the armament plant also gave the reason for the Nazis' almost fanatical defense of the Moselle valley region. It is believed that all the mines, steel mills and factories in this area were hooked up within the past two years to become the heart of the entire German war industry.

Abandoned Hastily

The only newly discovered arsenal employing selected Nazi workers for the bulk of its 2,000 employees, was abandoned hastily. The fleeing Germans left millions of dollars in equipment behind them.

When the American entered the unpretentious plant, an amazing sight greeted them. Hundreds of shiny gun barrels, some 25 feet long and weighing tons, were in the process of receiving their finishing touches. Gun barrels were stacked everywhere, with 88's in piles of 30 and great numbers of 105's.

There wasn't a soul in the place, although the German timecards were stacked neatly in front of the clock.

Hit Reich War Power

A few bomb craters near the plant told of sporadic and uncoordinated raiding in the area about the secret shop. Within the plant the best machinery from France, Germany, the rest of Europe and some from America contributed to the Nazi war effort.

Skilled German workers were imported to man the plant, and there were notes that death would be the penalty of anyone who violated the secrecy of the works.

In capturing this arms works, and surrounding installations, the American third army has struck a heavy blow at the war power of the Reich. In abandoning their factories and machinery, the Nazis have lost one of the main sources of their military strength.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Margaret Theresa Ryan

Mrs. Margaret Theresa Ryan, aged 72 years, widow of Michael J. Ryan, 234 North Crawford avenue, died in the New Castle hospital this morning at 4:30 o'clock after a five weeks' illness.

She was born in this city, April 2, 1872, daughter of Michael and Margaret Doran Shea, pioneer residents of this city. Mrs. Ryan is the last of her family. She was a member of St. Mary's church, and has been a life-long resident here.

Surviving are the following children: a son, Ambrose J. Ryan, daughters, Georgianna, at home; Mrs. Margaret Kiker, this city, and Mrs. E. E. Fisher, Lakewood, O.; five grandchildren, and a great-grandchild.

A daughter, Mrs. Helen Chip, preceded her in death in 1938.

High mass of requiem will be offered in St. Mary's church Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

The body will be taken to the residence from the A. Darrell Burke funeral home, North Jefferson street, Wednesday at noon. The funeral procession will leave the residence at 8:30 o'clock.

Charles R. Shannon

Charles Raymond Shannon of New Galilee died suddenly following a heart attack Monday afternoon at 4:40 o'clock in the office of the Duignan garage on the Enon-Mt. Jackson road, Little Beaver township.

Mr. Shannon was widely known and was very highly esteemed. He was a member, an elder and also chairman of the congregation of Rocky Springs United Presbyterian church.

Mr. Shannon, a member of the council of New Galilee, was a veteran of World War I, having served overseas.

He was preceded in death by his father and two brothers.

Survivors include his wife, Margaret Stinson Shannon; one daughter, Barbara Ann Shannon, and his mother, Mrs. Harriet Isabel Shannon.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock by his pastor, Rev. W. W. Willis, from the Rocky Springs United Presbyterian church.

Interment will be in Rocky Spring cemetery.

Bernard Dess

Bernard Dess, aged 88 years, of 73 South Lee avenue, died in the New Castle hospital Monday evening at 6:20 o'clock, following a three weeks' illness.

He was born August 2, 1856 at Baltimore, Md., son of Xavier and Rosina Isenberger Dess. Since 1923 he made his home in this city, his family moving from Fergus Falls, Minn., where they previously lived for 45 years.

Mr. Dess was a member of St. Joseph's church.

Mr. Dess was one of the few persons left who had seen President Lincoln. He was about nine years of age at that time, and while passing through Baltimore, Md., saw the body of President Lincoln.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Matilda Dess, four sons, Joseph and Bernard Dess, this city; Pfc. Edward Dess, somewhere in France; and Francis Dess, Clairton, Pa. Four daughters: Mrs. Eugene Nicholson, Alden, Minn.; Mrs. Henry Eagan, Foxhome, Minn.; Martha and Mrs. Jerome, Blair of Minneapolis, Minn.; 14 grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

The body is at the A. Darrell Burke funeral home, North Jefferson street, where friends may call this evening and Wednesday evening 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

High mass of requiem will be offered in St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock, and interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. The funeral party will leave the funeral home at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Johnston Funeral Time

Funeral services for Mrs. Eunice I. Johnston, New Wilmington, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the New Wilmington U. P. church, Dr. R. F. Galbreath in charge.

Interment will be in Fair Oaks cemetery.

MAJOR PROGRESS IS REPORTED BY U. S. OFFENSIVE

smashed northward through the Netherlands holds firm, the official spokesman said.

Slow, steady progress north of the Antwerp-Turnhout canal was reported with the Allied bridgehead extended in the neighborhood of St. Leonard.

The Third Army of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton made gains northeast of Nancy, where the Germans were driven from the forest of Greinneezy, and around Metz.

High Ground Taken At Metz

High ground overlooking the city of Metz was taken by American troops who are within five miles of the city.

Yesterday, for the first time in weeks, the Germans failed to attempt a single counter-attack against the Third Army front.

Steady gains were made in the Parroy Forest despite stiff opposition.

Headquarters announced gains of several miles north and south of Tendon, before the Belfort Gap, in the Epinal area.

Libertation of Ronchamp, some nine miles from Belfort, was announced.

The Allies were forced to yield some ground near Grandevillers because of heavy German artillery concentrations, but the Allied units advanced east of Rambovillers, northeast of Epinal, against strong artillery and mortar fire.

Heavy Nazi Resistance

The progress in Holland was made against heavy German resistance and the Allied troops were in contact with strong bodies of Germans.

On the western side of the Netherlands, the Allies gained a hold on the north bank of the Antwerp-Turnhout canal westward to St. Leonard.

Additional progress also was made northwest of Turnhout, west of Eindhoven.

In southeast Luxembourg, American troops reached the outskirts of Grevenmacher, east of the city of Luxembourg on the German frontier and the Moselle river.

Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army forces cleared the Germans from the forest of Greinneezy, northeast of Nancy, while farther to the south Allied troops pushed ahead in a number of places in the Epinal area in the face of stiff opposition.

The Seventh Army freed Ronchamp, west of Belfort.

German efforts to bring up reinforcements in the Belfort area were checked and heavy losses inflicted on the enemy.

During the night Allied light bombers maintained the aerial assault against Nazi transportation targets in northwest Germany.

JAP POSITIONS ON CELEBS ARE AGAIN BOMBED

escorted heavies slashed at Jap ground installations. Three of five Jap fighters which attempted interception were shot from the sky, and a Jap bomber attempting to land was downed in flames.

Repeated neutralization raids against enemy installations in the Moluccas saw heavy bombers accompanied by attack and fighter bomber formations blister Ceram with 88 tons of high explosives. The airbase, barracks and gun positions were hammered in the raid, and fighters strafed and severely damaged a 1,000 ton freighter and two coastal vessels.

Raiders Driven Off

In the Halmahera, several Jap planes attempted to raid American shipping off Morotai Island. The raiders were driven off, and at least one Jap plane was downed by Yank ground fire.

Other American aerial units raked Timor in the Lesser Sunda Islands while attack planes operating in the Banda Sea hurled a 24-ton bombing attack against the Kei Islands.

Attack and fighter bombers pinpointed Jap jungle targets in New Guinea from Wewak to Vogelkop, while light warships shelled Jap positions on Bougainville.

aircraft fire was described as intense but no damage to the mainline planes was reported.

Headquarters also disclosed another series of aerial strikes against Truk atoll and against enemy bases in the volcano islands and in the Marshalls.

Seventh AAF Liberators unloaded 37 tons of bombs on Moen and Eto islands in Truk atoll Sept. 29, facing only meager antiaircraft fire.

On the following day, another formation of seventh AAF Liberators blasted runways and airfield facilities at Iwo Jima in the Volcanos. Eight "aggressive" enemy fighters intercepted the raiders and one of the big American planes was shot down while several were damaged.

On the same day Jaluit in the Marshalls was hit with 33 tons of bombs by Marine Corsairs, one of which was damaged by heavy antiaircraft fire.

Regular dinner meeting of the Wolves club will meet this evening at 6:30 o'clock at The Castleton. An interesting program has been arranged for this evening and afterwards the bowling games will get under way.

far below zero, as the Russian-German battles of the eastern front have proved. What stops the fighting in Holland, Belgium, France and Western Germany is mud. Beginning sometimes as early as September, it rains all day and every day. By November, ordinarily, the mud is so deep that no machine of land warfare, ancient or modern, can move.

It was no accident that the armistice of 1918 came on November 11. That was about the end of the period during which troop movement was possible. Operations on the western front in World War One ended early in November in 1914, 1916 and 1917, as well as 1918. In 1915, the rains and the mud came a little earlier than usual.

Race Against Time

Since the arrival of Allied troops at approximately their present positions facing the Siegfried line about three weeks ago, it has been taken place with a view of building up the huge stores of munitions and supplies necessary to equip them for an all-out assault on the Nazi frontier before the advent of bad weather.

The time was short and the difficulties tremendous. American and British forces had only just completed advances from the seacoast to the German frontier, averaging 300 miles.

Allied forces deployed against the German frontier defenses consist of six ground armies, one airborne army and an air establishment of unparalleled size, the whole estimated at approximately 2,000,000 men.

Principal obstacles to their speedy victory are the defensive works of the Siegfried line, the length of Allied supply lines, and the autumn mud. Give time, the first two obstacles can be overcome. Time depends on how soon the dredding rains arrive and the mud is kneaded.

If the rains hold off and the next couple of months are dry, American-British armies may cross the Rhine before Christmas.

JAP REPORTS SAY FORCES ADVANCE UPON FOCHOW

count, which was directed to the controlled press, occupied east Asia had advanced along the river, capturing Lienkong on Saturday, the day after the invasion. So "rapid" had been the Japanese advance said Domei, "the enemy appears to be in great confusion."

The text of the Japanese communiqué as broadcast by the Tokyo radio to Japanese area, and also reported to the OWI by FCC monitors, follows:

"Our forces which are aiming for the capitulation of the vicinity of Fochow, stronghold on the coast of the East China Sea, carried out surprise landings on the coast northeast of this spot at dawn September 27, under the close cooperation of army and navy forces. They are now advancing towards Fochow."

Fochow once before was in Japanese hands, having been taken in April 1939. It was retaken by the Chinese in September, 1939, however, when the Japanese, as today's Domei dispatch claimed, "voluntarily withdrew."

DEVELOPMENTS OF DAY REVEAL WARS NOT WON

forces in Warsaw were compelled to give in to Nazi occupational troops after days of bloody fighting in the streets coincided with field dispatches telling of steady progress for Allied troops which launched a series of new attacks against the Siegfried line in the regions north of Aachen and around Metz.

General Bor, leader of the Polish patriot army, announced that a cease fire order had been given when all ammunition and food became exhausted. There was no immediate clue to Gen. Bor's fate or that of his leading officers. A German broadcast said that all wounded patriots would receive treatment in military hospitals, with the remainder to be held as prisoners of war.

you enter this region, and although violated territory automatically slips back into France as fast as the American third army advances, you might as well be driving into German communities around Essen and Düsseldorf when you enter communities like Hayange, Florange, Marspich or Algrange.

Every sign, every street and every official building bears a German legend, every second child in the mobs of children speaks nothing but German, and the swastika is stamped over everything.

The great steel mills, the mines and all affiliated industries, down to the smallest agricultural unit have been incorporated ruthlessly in Hitler's pattern for making the Moselle region into a second Ruhr.

In Florange, a roundup caught 200 bona fide Nazis among the town's population of about 2,000. They are unarmed and not dangerous in a military sense, but politically they are a potential menace.

Most of them sat in shuttered houses, in civilian clothes, and protested their innocence with vigor. Now and then one claimed to be anti-Nazi, but a Nazi swastika button under a coat lapel, or a brown party uniform would come to light swiftly when a search was instituted.

In many cases the Nazis had burned their uniforms, but other means of checking quickly established their party membership.

FAITH

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Sometimes we think we people at home are not doing our share towards winning the war, but do we look at it in the right way.

The facts are, the same smart, experienced business men who made America great before the war, are not only financing the war, but are using their knowledge and planning to make America great again, when this conflict is over.

The question will be, will those experienced men be allowed to use their knowledge in building up another great country, or will they be tied down by rules made in Washington by appointees, who have never had experience in conducting a business of a great country like America, but who are given the opportunity to interfere with those with greater knowledge and experience.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exclusively prepared emollient is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy. It helps keep the skin soft and pliable, thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin. For the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend

Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight.

Society AND Clubs

TRIO SHARE HONORS AT INFORMAL PARTY

A lovely impromptu party, three-fold in purpose, was given in the home of Mrs. Valeria James, Hillcrest avenue Monday night when she entertained most informally a group of close associates. The event honored her daughter, Phyllis V. James, USNR, Y-2-c; Mrs. Theodore G. Walton, nee Kay Wagner, a bride of recent date, and Mrs. George Galey for her six weeks old daughter, Barbara Jean.

The early hours were spent in a varied program of pastimes and reminiscing, this marking the first reunion of the "Clums Group" over a long period of time.

Climaxing festivities, Mrs. Walton was taken by total surprise when the group gathered around and presented her with a handsome shower gift of crystal. At this time, Mrs. Galey was also the recipient of a collection of dainty gifts for little Barbara Jean.

In conclusion, Yeoman Phyllis James, who is home here on a ten-day leave from her assignment at the seventh naval district headquarters in Miami, Fla., where she has been on duty for the past 13 months, related some of her experiences. Interesting stimulating incidents related more of the happy lives of girls in uniform.

A tasty buffet lunch was served afterwards, pink and white tones accentuating the nuptial motif predominating. Mrs. James was aided by Mrs. Ralph Beals.

J. H. W. SOCIETY BIRTHDAY MEETING

Jean Hill Williamson, missionary society members of Highland U. P. church were graciously received on Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Irvine Ralph, Wallace avenue. It was in the form of their birthday meeting. Presentation of the birthday dollars was a feature of the evening.

Mrs. Henderson introduced Mrs. C. R. Trayer of the Third U. P. church, who spoke on "Tithing". Tea was served with Mrs. Russell Tait, president, and Mrs. E. E. Grotelend, vice-president of the group, pouring.

Mrs. Harold Simpson, Miss Kathryn Dickson, Mrs. A. C. Miller, Jr., Mrs. Arthur Simpson and Mrs. Hartman acted as hostesses.

Next meeting will be a joint one with other missionary societies on Thursday evening, November 16, when Dr. and Mrs. Duncan Henry, missionaries to Ethiopia, will tell of their work there.

L. M. S. Class Meeting
L. M. S. class of the Central Presbyterian church met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Clarence Forbes on South Beaver street extension. ### LUNCHEON BRIDGE FOR JANICE BITTNER

Another in the series of pre-nuptial parties that have been given for Miss Janice Bittner was the luncheon-bridge given on Saturday afternoon by Mrs. George R. Cunningham, East Leasure avenue.

Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock and tables of contract bridge were in play during the afternoon.

The guest of honor was presented with a shower gift and corsage by the hostess. Winner of bridge prize were Mrs. George Muse and Miss Kathryn Bittner.

The wedding of Miss Bittner and Capt. Eugene Kirker of Washington, D. C., will be an event of next Saturday afternoon. The bride-elect is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bittner of East Lincoln avenue, and Capt. Kirker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tadd Kirker of East Garfield avenue.

LEISER KERR NEWS ANNOUNCED TODAY

Miss Shirley Canfield Leiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Leiser of Harrisburg, and Captain Miller L. Kerr, USA, son of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Kerr of New Castle, were married on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at a double-ring candlelight service performed by Rev. Harold E. Buell in the Mt. Lebanon Methodist church at Pittsburgh.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of antique ivory brocade satin, made with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and a full skirt ending in short train. Her fingertip veil of ivory illusion fell from a brocade satin head-dress, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and banyan.

Edwin S. Kerr, brother of the groom was best man. Officiars were Audrey McGuire of Oakmont, Frederick McLaure and Loyal E. Kerr of New Castle.

Bernie Armstrong played the wedding music and John Kirby sang favorite selections.

A reception in the Army and Navy Officers' club in the Fort Pitt hotel followed the wedding.

After a short trip to Hot Springs, Va., Captain and Mrs. Kerr will live in Durham, N. C., where the bridegroom is stationed.

Captain Kerr is a graduate of Slippery Rock State Teachers college and before entering service was a member of the Midland high school faculty.

ALL NATURE PREPARES FOR WINTER - HOW ABOUT YOU ?

Before the first skim ice appears on the northern ponds near which they nest, WILD GEESSE, forewarned by nature of approaching winter, assemble in flocks for their annual migration south.

THE WILD GEESSE ARE CALLING THE SIGNALS FOR COLD WEATHER CAR PROTECTION

It's easy for geese. They move with the weather. We can't. We and our cars must stick it out through the winter.

What about that "old faithful" you're driving today? This is its 4th War Winter. More than ever before it needs the attention of experienced service men.

Your Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer knows your car best. He has the tools to test and adjust it. He has genuine factory-engineered and inspected parts. His trained mechanics can quickly diagnose minor troubles and correct them before major expense develops.

Beat the rush that always comes with very cold weather. Phone now for an appointment to talk things over with your dealer.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS ECONOMIST

Speaking before an audience of 250 Woman's club members Monday in the First United Presbyterian church, Otto C. Lorenz, noted economist and analyst, challenged us to guard well our Democratic heritage, our freedom of action, freedom of enterprise and pioneer spirit.

"The final decision rests with us, the people," he said, "politically, economically and at the peace table. We must use our individual prerogatives wisely to secure lasting peace and a post-war prosperity."

"It is estimated that a 165 billion dollar market will be needed to turn the wheels of industry and to promote prosperity in the post-war period. We will fall short 50 billion dollars of this market unless we resort to installment buying."

"Uncontrolled installment buying can lead to booms and depressions. A carefully controlled installment plan can lead to a new economy and a good one. It can prime the pump of prosperity better than government printing can do. It can induce people to save war bonds as 'nest eggs' while satisfying their present needs," he stated.

Mr. Lorenz derided planned economy. The railroad and the automobile would never have been developed under a planned economy, he stated. In the future new challenges will arise—we will adjust to them. It is part of our vital growth.

Introducing Mr. Lorenz, Mrs. J. J. McVaine, member of the program committee, spoke of his private work as consultant to various trade associations, banks and finance companies. He has been a member of the faculty of the Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers university for a number of sessions.

Hostesses for the initial event of the Woman's club were the new officers: Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, Mrs. J. B. Hurst, Mrs. Joseph Hartman, Mrs. J. Edward Everett, Mrs. M. R. Hornum, Mrs. C. R. Brenner, Mrs. R. N. McBurney.

An excellent luncheon was served by women of the church. Committee on luncheon arrangements was composed of Mrs. Charles Gardner, chairman, Mrs. Gerald Nord, Mrs. Edward Everett, Mrs. Roy Conway, Mrs. James Voss, decorations, Mrs. W. H. Humphrey, chairman, Mrs. C. E. Aiken, Mrs. T. M. Snaffer, Mrs. Roy Snyder, Mrs. C. L. Brennerman, Mrs. Earl Cass.

Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, past president, gave the invocation and Mrs. W. J. Caldwell led the assemblage in singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Mrs. Richard K. Allen was accompanist.

Welcoming the club to the opening session of the 56th year of the Woman's club, Mrs. Shumaker brought out the fact that although organized for cultural purposes, members from the beginning have shown a strong sense of civic responsibility.

"Down through the years," she said, "the club has written a fine record of civic achievement. The project which resulted in the New Castle Public Library was started by this club when its membership numbered 40. Now we are 10 times as large—we should be 10 times as strong."

"Today responsibility is many. The Deshon hospital project and the bond booth will be continued, and other patriotic projects added as needs arise. It has been stated by Mrs. Paul Koehn, president Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs, that the incidence of crime among girls has risen 54 per cent during the past few years. We club women may be able to do something about that."

"Due to our wartime manufacturing program, prosperity has returned to New Castle. In the post-war period will we be able to hold those gains? What can our club do to help attract and hold diversified industries in New Castle? Let us do some constructive thinking along these lines."

Without Painful Backache
Many women relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisons to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. It might be really surprising with smarting and burning sores, times shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons, a waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Out Of The White Cliffs

It was on August 13, 1940, that the travail of Britain's "Hellfire Corner"—Dover, Deal and Folkestone—began. The world had learned at last what Nazi military power meant. It was beginning to learn the awful lesson of Nazi ruthlessness.

From Cap Gris Nez and other emplacements along the Pas de Calais great German guns began lobbing 16-inch shells across the narrow channel at the helpless little coast towns. Dover and its nearby communities have passed through four terrible years of senseless attack.

A substantial proportion of the population was removed. But many stayed. They have lived, at Dover particularly, in great caves in the famous chalk cliffs—a weird existence sharply accented by the remark of a five-year-old girl who was led forth by her mother—"I didn't know we lived outside too!"

The relief of Dover, brought about by soldiers from far-away Canada who are mopping up the Calais coast and who had captured the last Nazi big gun there, brought its cave-dwellers forth singing and dancing. We can only faintly understand the joy of these people who withstood so long and so bravely the utmost that a bitterly hating enemy could do. They can exist like normal human beings again. Their little children need not lurk in caves in the cliffs and think the world is like that.

Hitler didn't gain a single point by pouring out his insensate wrath on "Hellfire Corner," observes the Philadelphia Inquirer. He killed some men, women and children—as the blitz did and the robot terror had done. That was all. Freedom has not been destroyed by him and in due time, if we are all faithful—as the people of Dover are faithful—it will come forth everywhere into the light. Then we must keep it there.

Branding Themselves

Japanese on Peleliu, now engaging in a last ditch but hopeless fight, are adding argument to the expression emanating from the Pacific that "the only good Jap is a dead Jap."

For many nights the enemy made suicide charges with small commands, but recently the commander has been sending over one Jap at a time, loaded with grenades. The Jap would try to toss the grenades into the American lines before he stopped a bullet. Some tried the ruse of offering to surrender to get close enough to throw hand bombs.

Such fighting will not win a battle nor a war. "The only good Jap is a dead Jap" may become an enduring description of the Japanese. A similar appellation was applied to the American Indians before they finally gave in to the Whites. That statement was an injustice to many Indians, but the Japs on Peleliu, who take themselves down with explosives and then feign surrender to lead Americans along with them when they commit suicide are deservedly winning title to the old saying.

More Than Hunches

Germans have more than hunches to persuade them that Hitler has lost the war. With his armies ousted from France and Russia and on their way up in the Balkans and in Italy, it is obvious to them that the jig is up.

There is no question that the German populace has become convinced of the inevitable. This included the Nazi guards at war prisoner camps. Last week 2,000 exchanged Allied prisoners headed for home landed in Sweden and they said Nazi prison guards were no longer strictly vigilant about escapes.

But they reported prisoners in the camps realize that the end of the war is approaching and there is no particular point now in running the risks of flight from the camps. A sign in the same direction is a reduction in the ranks of the Gestapo. Nazis are getting out of it and ordinary police are put in their place and are not enthusiastic about their job.

Blitz To Come

"Mud Prolongs Siege of Metz," So runs a recent headline.

It's an old story to the fathers of the men now fighting in France. American soldiers of 1917 and 1918 saw plenty of mud. Slogging along slippery lanes and in rain-drenched fields under an artillery barrage or a machine gun cross-fire was no picnic. It's no picnic now for their sons at Metz and at many another spot where the autumn rains have begun.

Some of the war correspondents have been inclined to over-emphasize the contrast between the trench warfare of a quarter of a century ago and the blitz warfare of today. It is true that the development of speedier tanks and planes with heavier firepower has changed radically the aspect of certain actions. But there comes a time when motorized equipment is stalled. Weather, terrain and the defensive position of the enemy are factors.

Blitz warfare comes into its own when a major break-through has been effected. That happened twice in France: The German sweep of 1940 and the Allied sweep of 1944. Now, entrenched behind their Siegfried fortifications, the Nazis are compelling the Allies to resort to the 1917 technique of warfare. Mud is their weapon. So is bad weather, which hinders Allied air operations.

In one respect there is a big difference in the deployment of ground forces. Infantry must still advance under fire to seize a position, but the commanding officers do not rely on mere masses of men to overpower a strongly fortified enemy. It is too wasteful of human lives.

Every possible weapon, on the ground and in the air, is used to soften up the position before shock troops are sent in. The number of men involved is considerably smaller than was formerly employed. Foxholes, not trenches, are the soldiers' defense.

Although the Allies are stalled along part of the Siegfried Line, the possibility is ever imminent of a major break-through at some key point. It was in October, 1918, that the Allies made their greatest gains in the last war, resulting in the armistice of November 11. Autumn came to France in 1918 as in 1944. When the break-through comes, blitz warfare will take the place of positional warfare. Then, and not until then, will come the chance of achieving a quick victory.

If the scientists hadn't discovered vitamins what would the radio announcers have to talk about?

It is said that the hens are not laying as many eggs as formerly. Maybe they are on a strike for their jurisdictional rights.

The nastiest man we know of is the one who, the other day, came out of the corner grocery threatening to move to Russia in order to get some American butter.

That war which Russia had with Bulgaria the other day was so short Stalin didn't have time to wire Washington for an increase in his lend-lease allowance.

Hesitate To Make Attacks On Dulles

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The attacks that have been directed recently at John Foster Dulles, Governor Dewey's advisor on foreign policy, have not surprised Dewey's campaign managers. In fact, they expected the attack to come much earlier.

Anyone with any political sense would know that Dulles is an obvious target. As the head of Sullivan and Cromwell, he is probably the foremost international lawyer in America.

The Dulles firm represents corporations with connections all over the world. The big European monopolies represented by Sullivan and Cromwell were an intimate part of the Europe that went down under the Hitler blitz of 1940. The directors of these corporations had political alliances which went into every chamber of the continent as may be shown more directly if certain documents finally come to light.

These men were ruled by an abiding fear of Bolshevism. Some of them were so afraid of Communism that they were willing to join hands with German and Italian Fascism.

Too Late Now

By advertising the record of the clients of the Dulles firm, not only Dulles, but his friend, Dewey, would be identified with these same interests. That, at any rate, was the supposition, and no one needed to point out that possibility to as smart a politician as Herbert Brownell Jr., Republican national chairman.

At Republican headquarters, they thought the attack would come when Dulles made the headlines as the man Dewey named to talk with Secretary of State Hull about the progress of the Dumbarton Oaks conference. If the attack had come then, it would have been effective in the Republican view. Now it is too late, they hold.

If only as campaign strategy, Dulles' conference with Hull was a highly successful move. He appeared before the public as a friend of the Republican candidate with a broad background of knowledge of foreign policy. His eminently respectable pedigree included his chairmanship of the commission for a just and durable peace of the Federal Council of Churches in Christ.

In Hospital

Immediately after the meeting with Hull, Dulles went to a hospital for an operation on an infected foot, and he has been recovering in a utility ward until the other day, a doctor named by the court held he would not be able to appear before October 9, at the earliest.

Meanwhile, the new dealers had been digging into his record. There is nothing secret about it. It's all in one law court or another. He was a lawyer hired by the very top men of industry and finance. He handled their law business. As he explained in a letter to me, his firm directed the incorporation of America First, although Dulles said that he himself never shared the views of the America Firsters in their passionate isolationism.

Having put together the Dulles Dossier, the new dealers hesitated, which in itself was strange. Eight years ago, even perhaps four years ago, the Dulles record would have been quickly tossed into the political ring. Someone like Secretary of the Interior Ickes, or even the president himself, would have denounced Dewey's friend as a "cartel-minded international lawyer." To date, the material has not been used at all, except as it has been fed out to sympathetic communists.

This may be a recognition of a more conservative temper in the country. Or in part, at least, it may be an acknowledgment of the effectiveness of Dewey's efforts to label the Roosevelt administration as hopelessly anti-business.

There is, however, a better reason. The man whom Dewey calls affectionately by his middle name, Foster, has become part of the international peace planning picture. He has talked several times with Secretary Hull on the telephone since their meeting, and in this way, and through friends of Hull who have gone to New York, he has been kept fully informed on progress at Dumbarton Oaks.

It is quite possible that Hull may have forbidden any attack on Dulles. To hit him would seem to hit at the thing that is dearest to the secretary's heart.

PREJUDICE

There was a little drowning lad
Whose little scream had caught an ear.
A passer-by in denim clad,
And one he had been taught to fear.

The skin of him was ebony-hued,
But brave was he and muscled strong.
Henceforth a moth's gratitude
To him forever will belong.

God's will? Who knows why men accept
The risk when others aid in peril?
Into the stream the dark man leapt
And brought the white boy safe to shore.

That evening kneeling by his bed
When he finished with his prayer
"Mama, the man was black!" he said
And "Did you know and do you care?"

Another question to which Grandpappy Jenkins says he never hopes to find the answer is: where do the picnic ants go in October?

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

HOMEWORK HABITS IN CHILD

The average youth in high school or college wastes an enormous amount of time because of poor study habits. They involve two problems: 1. Going to the job at a regular time and place. 2. Using methods of study which will bring the best results. Parents can do something about these problems.

In order to get on well in the upper grades and high school, the average child needs to have practiced being off the streets and at home on nights before school. Groundwork for this practice must be established in the earlier years which is entirely the responsibility of parents. You can see that my constant emphasis on early home control relates to the child not only during his early years but quite as much during his later life.

Earl Habits

The child who does about as he pleases at four or ten and, therefore, runs about the neighborhood and on the street after dark, has not been brought up well for cultivating good study habits at 13 or 16. If, on the other hand, he has learned during his primary school years to come into the house when the lights appear, he has a background established for acquiring good homework habits when school-homework begins. Moreover, best homework habits are cultivated early in the school year and hewed to consistently all the year. Don't wait until the first report comes home to check on your child's homework habits. Check right now. If your child 13 or 16 says he has no homework require him to do each evening some serious reading in order to keep the habit of regular home-learning alive. Often the youth may kid himself that he has no homework or can do all of it at school when he really has or can not.

One reason so many youths shirk their homework is because they gain so little success from their study efforts. Indeed many faithful youths who conscientiously study hard, even spend excessive hours at it, don't get results at all in proportion to the time and effort they expend.

Some parents who are patient and sympathetic can help such a student at his lessons. My bulletin, "Parents and the Child's Homework" may be had for the asking in a self-addressed stamped envelope, sent to me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City.

Youth's Chief Trouble

More often than not the youth's chief trouble is in not being a good reader. He may read his text book laboriously, stumbling over many words, and then not know what he has just read. His parents may help him by reading with him from the text, or even to him, helping him to take advantage of the paragraph headings and showing him how to turn each paragraph into a sentence or so of his own words. Having so helped him sympathetically, these parents might also induce him to practice 20 minutes daily at reading from a book or magazine with far easier materials than those of his text books. There is no better way for him to improve his reading skills.

But the student's success in study at home depends largely on his habits of attention in class at school. Even in this case the companion, patient parent may be able to help by offering at acceptable times some constructive suggestions keeping in mind it is not so much the time he uses at study as the way he studies. To this end I have written for the junior high, senior high and college student a page of suggestions called "Tips to Students" to be had in a stamped envelope.

Adolf Hitler getting soundly trounced on two fronts is another fellow who doesn't believe in double-headedness.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Sometimes I wonder who these people are who write the thousands of booklets and folders and articles published by our benevolent Government.

Surely, they must be made of mighty stuff, for in these publications there is always such a tone of complete infallibility, or shall we say, superiority, that only the most powerful brains—or the most powerful fools—can speak with so much authority.

For instance, take the subject of WOMEN.

Who knows anything about women? Surely not men, or the wisest of them could not be so easily fooled by pretty little dumb-bells.

Do women know women? Of course not; else why would it be so easy for one woman to steal a man from another one?

So, who does know anything about women? The War department, or at least somebody in the War department who has just written a special booklet for returning G. I.'s telling them all about what to do with women after the war.

The booklet makes the brilliant observation that "women are not all alike"—some of them, it says, are made only for having babies and a woman may have the mind of a mutton or the genius of Madame Curie.

Recent Suggestions

The thing I personally resented most was the suggestion that "man could share in almost every task in the house" whereas whenever my wife suggests even the slightest household help I run as fast as I can.

"I'd like to meet the writer of that booklet. Years ago one of the California communities near San Francisco where I was a reporter, had a particularly efficient Parent Teacher Association with a very active president. My city editor sent me to interview her and I took a photographer along. I was to talk to her husband and her children, see pictures of their happy family life, ask her what made marriage successful and so on. When we got out to the place we went to the president's address, and we found her in a tiny little home, a lovely old maid lady keeping house with a Cocker Spaniel and two cats.

That's how I picture the author of the War Department's booklet on Women. Only I think it's an old bachelor who never had a wife of his own and whose only consolation was that he was probably through the pages of Esquire Magazine.

Maybe I'm wrong. As for me, I have been married many years. I have a sister and aunts and nieces, and in my work I have met women by the hundred.

But if I were asked to write a book about women it would be a handsomely bound volume with three-hundred-and-sixty-five blank pages.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE "SPENDERS"

Perhaps it is too much to expect that deserved attention will be paid to the warning sounded by Representative Hutton Summers of Texas, for thirty-two years a member of Congress, in discussing the unemployment provisions of the reversion bills before the Lower House. Mr. Summers is a Democrat and has rendered notable service as head of the judiciary committee. He is a believer in the type of Americanism which has made this country great and strong and prosperous. He is speaking as an American when he says:

"We have been building up a psychology in this country for a long time that when any private person, any state or community gets into trouble when an individual faces a situation that challenges him to his initiative and all of his resources, if they come to Washington to get some money."

"We are engineering and encouraging people by the proposed unemployment legislation now before there is any necessity, to come up here and get some money out of the Federal Treasury. We know that we are not too far away from the printing press for money. We know that when this war is over it is not going to be easy to sell bonds."

We know that whenever the tax burden upon privately owned property is greater than its assets, private ownership will not be attractive. We know that there can be but two sorts of ownership, private ownership and public ownership.

"Whenever we create a situation where nobody wants to own and nobody wants to work or manage, there can be no owner except the government. There can be no democracy, no popular government, where ownership is vested in government organization."

Mr. Summers may have hit the real motive behind such legislation as the Murray-Kilgore Bill in this last paragraph, a purpose to force the country into Socialism. Sidney Hillman's sponsorship of this Bill and his reported ambition to administer the national reconversion point definitely in that direction. A government already carrying a debt approaching three hundred billion dollars, approximately nineteen hundred dollars for each man, woman and child—indulging in deficit spending of more and more billions to finance idleness, certainly would find itself on the way to printing press money and eventual bankruptcy.

HOME MEAT CUTTING

People hurt their hands sometimes when cutting meat. Knives and saws should be sharp. The table should be solid. There should be plenty of room. The knife handle should be clean.

When you are through with the knife put it away carefully. Keep a sharp knife in a place by its self. Do not force the saw. You may break it or it may slip and hurt you. Keep sharp tools where children cannot get them.

Level Of Campaign Has Been Lowered

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. IN THE past ten days, there have been two developments in the Roosevelt campaign rather distressing to White House strategists. Both conflict with early plans and exhibit a certain inability to hold the lines laid down, upon which it had been determined to make the fight.

ONE is the abandonment by Mr. Roosevelt of the pretense that he would not campaign in "the usual political sense" but reluctantly would permit himself, as "Commander in Chief," to be "drafted" for another four years. The other is the unscheduled way in which the Communist leaders and Mr. Hillman, of the Communist-saturated CIO and American Labor party, seized the oratorical spotlight in New York and Washington at the end of the week. In the judgment of most observers neither of these things improved the Roosevelt situation—rather the reverse.

THE HIGH level upon which it was proposed to keep the President has been lowered. The great dignity of his position has disappeared. Since his recent political speech he is revealed as an active candidate, taking after votes in the regulation political way and with both time and willingness to use methods in seeking them hardly compatible with the lofty and aloof attitude assumed at the time of his nomination. An instance was the cheap little publicity stunt, arranged by Chairman Hannegan, of the flying from New York to take White House tea with the Commander in Chief of Frank Sinatra, hero of the "booby-cock brigade," and his friends, Texe Shor, owner of a New York steak house and Rags Ragland, a former burlesque comedian now in the movies.

NOR HAS the atmosphere been bettered either by the ineffectual attempt of Mr. Hannegan to arouse racial and religious prejudice by charges against Republican Chairman J. Edgar Hoover, by the silly and vituperative letter of Mr. Ickes to Governor Dewey. Perhaps in Mr. Roosevelt's speech next Thursday his literary aides may be able to lift his campaign from its present level and rec

Johnson Urges Move To Avoid Inflation Ruin

By EARLE MARCKES
U. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Eric A. Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, on Monday advocated progressive wage increases after the war to avoid ruinous deflation of the national economy.

Appearing before the War Labor Board, Johnston opposed, however, labor's efforts to smash the "little steel" wage formula at this time. "I shall oppose wholesale wage rate reductions after the war," he said. "On the contrary, I shall advocate progressive wage increases as improved methods permit increased production. What we must avoid is both inflation and deflation."

That is why I come before the board today to advocate holding the line on our wartime wage and price policies. Anything that causes inflation now, inevitably will bring in its wake, deflation later on. I am anxious to see our stabilization policy continued for the rest of the war.

The Chamber of Commerce president listed three reasons for opposing immediate upward revision of wage rates:

Reasons For Opposition

1. The danger of inflation. The nation should not risk increasing the present pressure of two dollars for every dollar worth of goods "at a time when we are beginning to revise our estimates as to the time the war will end."

2. If hourly rates are boosted now, the higher costs will be immediately imposed on consumer industries that will seek to expand employment as soon as materials are available, putting them under a handicap when full employment is the nation's goal.

3. Wage increases imposed now would come at a time when post-war production costs are a complete mystery.

Johnston followed Robert M. Gaylord, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, who charged that the wage issue has become a "political football" and that the general public would bear the costs of a wage rise that would benefit only 25 percent of the workers.

"The war has brought increased profits for business and increased income for the workers," Johnston said. "But let's remember that we are borrowing against the future, and that as a nation we will have to pay in the future. Inflation increases the national debt, already threatening to grow to unmanageable proportions."

"In all fairness, it must be said that we have done a creditable job of holding the line. True, there have been breaches but the overall job is one to be commended. I hope that we shall continue to resist further breaches."

A newspaper should be the maximum of information and the minimum of comment.—Cobden.

Major Shutdown Is Now Threatened In Detroit Area

DETROIT, Sept. 3.—(INS)—Detroit's arsenal of democracy, one of the biggest war manufacturing areas in the nation, was threatened today with a major shutdown unless the War Labor Board agrees to study union claims of wage inequalities.

The strike vote was taken unanimously at a stormy session last night by representatives of more than 38,000 UAW-CIO maintenance workers in approximately 300 Detroit area war plants—ranging from the huge Ford Willow Run bomber plant to the tiniest sub-contractor. Union officials were quick to point out that, if the strike begins as scheduled tomorrow morning, some 400,000 workers will be forced into idleness.

Arsonists In Slippery Rock Township Suspected Of Damaging Mail Boxes

It appears today that the arsonists who burned down the Hogue School and partially burned the Aiken school, both in Slippery Rock township have put Uncle Sam on their trail also. It became known today that a number of rural mail boxes had been torn out in the township. This is a Federal offense.

In addition, malicious mischief was added to their list of depredations. At the farm of William Hogue who lives on the road leading down to the Armstrong bridge, several pieces of his farm machinery were pushed over a steep hill near his barn, and another piece was taken out into the highway, making a traffic hazard.

Some of the farmers in the township have called up their guns some summary action can be expected if any of the criminal offenses are continued and the offenders caught in the act.

Red Cross Denies Blood Plasma Sold

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3.—(INS)—Roy G. Bostwick, chairman of the Pittsburgh Red Cross Blood Donor Service, today was offering $1,000 to anyone who could prove that the Red Cross had ever sold blood plasma to someone in need of it. Bostwick explained that the move was an attempt to dispel rumors that hospital patients at home and soldiers on the battle fields were forced to pay for the plasma. He declared that such propaganda has seriously interrupted blood donations.

MRS. FRÄNZ WARNER FAREWELL HONOREE

Mrs. Franz Warner of Bessemer was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening when the Misses Esther and Mary Nord entertained at a "going away" party in her honor.

The evening was spent informally with games, the prize going to Mrs. Everett Olson. Highlight of the evening were letters written by each guest, one of which Mrs. Warner is to open and read each day of her trip.

At a late hour lunch was served by the hostesses at a prettily appointed table with a centerpiece of yellow daisies and lighted white tapers. Individual places were marked with miniature suitcases.

The honoree was presented with a lovely personal gift from the group.

Mrs. Warner and her daughter Linda Ann left Monday morning to spend the winter with Mr. and Mrs. W. Warner of Sanford, Fla., who have concluded a week-end visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Shoup of Bessemer.

A special guest was Mrs. L. Edward Nelson of Malden, Mass.

THOMAS P. BONNER HONORED AT PARTY

Master Thomas Patrick Bonner, small son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bonner of Pittsburgh, was honored at a private party given Saturday afternoon in celebration of his second birthday anniversary, which fell on Friday, September 29. The occasion was held at the residence of his grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Francis, Sheridan avenue, who presided in the role of hostess. Hours were from 4 until 6 o'clock.

Sixteen associates who gathered to welcome the Pittsburgher joined in the program of informal games. Prizes were awarded to John Edvard McClelland, Marne Houk, Marshall and Marlene Ginsberg, George Bement and Betsy Bothwell.

A full course dinner was served at 6 o'clock by Mrs. Francis by candlelight, with the birthday cake adorning the center of the table. Green and yellow tones predominated.

The honoree one was the recipient of a collection of handsome gifts as additional mementos of his anniversary.

Out of town guests included Betsy and Linda Bothwell of Sharon.

READING CIRCLE '91 OPENING LUNCHEON

Opening luncheon for Reading Circle '91 members was held Monday afternoon in the First U. P. church, Glenmore boulevard, with a large number in attendance. The occasion was planned under the direction of Mrs. Roy Jamison, Mrs. Thomas Lindsay and Mrs. Roy Long.

At long tables elegantly appointed in the autumnal motif, floral arrangements adorning the center line, a deliciously prepared full course luncheon was served by ladies of the church. Unique matched advertisements cut from The News served as place markers when each found her partner.

Mrs. E. L. Davenport, re-elected president for the new year, extended greetings to the membership, and Mrs. W. E. Porter gave the response. A spirited enthusiasm for their year's program was evident at yesterday's function, and this was further accentuated by Mrs. Porter's resume of the Circle '91's progress, the 46 years that she has belonged.

A brief business period closed the afternoon and announcement was made for their first regular meeting on October 16. It will be held in the Y. W. C. A. with the usual afternoon hours being observed.

Expert Says U. S.
Will Have To Feed
Western Germany

Russia, However, Will Probably Seize Foods In Eastern Germany Surplus Area

By ERWIN D. SIAS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—An authoritative government food expert disclosed today the United States and Great Britain will have to feed occupied Western Germany while Russia "probably will seize" foods in the eastern surplus area of the Nazi homeland.

The agriculture official explained that under present plans of occupation, Great Britain and the United States will "take over" the western half of Germany—a food deficit area—with Russia scheduled to occupy the "breadbasket" eastern half.

"It is a fair assumption," he declared, "that the Russians probably won't give the Germans food but on the contrary will seize it in the surplus areas."

He emphasized the food shortages
now existent in Russia and Poland, maintaining "there is no reason to believe Russia will send any food supplies to feed the Nazis."

Meanwhile, the War Food administration revealed that minimum food requirements for total European relief feeding, now getting under way in liberated areas, will amount to at least 21 million tons of food during the first year.

Insurance Refunds
For Municipalities
Being Distributed

HARRISBURG, Oct. 3.—(INS)—
Auditor General F. Clair Ross authorized today the distribution of $1,097,027.82 to Pennsylvania's 1920 municipalities eligible for fire insurance refunds and urged non-qualified communities to take steps to receive their share of a half-million dollar fund surplus.

The money represents accumulated proceeds from a two per cent tax levied on premiums of out-of-state fire insurance companies, he explained. The payments were for 1942.

Two special payments totaling $18,039.41 were made in March and June to newly-eligible townships and boroughs, he added.

"This failure of 563 communities to avail themselves of the firemen's benefits is resulting in the accumulation of a large undistributed surplus," Ross stated.

Communities may become entitled to payments by recognizing local fire companies and firemen's beneficial or relief associations.

"Under these circumstances every township in the state is eligible to receive its share of the fund," he declared.

KIWANIS HONOR BURNS

Harold E. Burns, editor of the New

The certificate recognizing Mr.
Burns' work was signed by Ben Dean, national president, O. E. Petersen, national secretary, William Reed, New Wilmington secretary, and Russell Cansler, New Wilmington president.

Don't Cheer Axis,
Shun Black Markets

The Axis partners may well congratulate each other every time an American patronizes black markets.
It's not that solitary purchases that will hurt the war effort, but the powerful impact of such purchases multiplied thousands of times.

An economy distorted by the channeling of scarce goods to black markets is bound to hurt the home front and in turn the war effort.
Shun black markets, pay only ceiling prices, turn in coupons and points for rationed goods.

Meat Slaughterers
Are Facing Charges

Violations Of O.P.A. Regulations Are Charged To Many In Pittsburgh District

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3.—(INS)— Charges of violating O.P.A. regulations today had been leveled against one-third of the 300 licensed meat slaughterers in the Pittsburgh district, with the naming of nine establishments in injunctions.

The wholesale black market practices were uncovered in an investigation conducted during the last month, according to O.P.A. Attorney Samuel Chertoff, who stated that 50 more would be haled into federal court by the end of this week, and probably a total of 100 before the end of October.

The offenses, Chertoff explained, arose through the grading of meats
by the slaughterers themselves, under a provision which allows for such action because of a shortage of federal graders. Investigations revealed that approximately 100 slaughterers were guilty of over-rating all kinds of meats, selling them at excessive prices, and that independent dealers were innocently passing along the overcharge to their customers.

In some cases, Chertoff said, customers were being overcharged as much as 20 per cent.

Offenders will be watched closely,
and further infractions, Chertoff declared, will result in their being held in contempt of court. All of the nine named yesterday signed consent decrees to cease further violations.

Two Are Held In Officer Wounding

BEDFORD, Pa., Oct. 3.—(INS)— Peter Revty, 20, and William Sawchak, 19, both of Pittsburgh, were held for court today on $10,000 bond each, charged with assault with intent to kill, resisting an officer, and violation of the uniform fire arms act, following their alleged shooting of State Patrolman C. K.
Pentz last Sunday.

Arraigned before justice of the peace Cyril Bingham, the two youths pleaded guilty to the first two charges, but denied guilt in the third.

When Patrolman Pentz halted the car for speeding, one of the men allegedly shot him through the shoulder. Police reported that the car the men were driving had been stolen in New Jersey.

No Confirmation Of Landings On Crete

LONDON, Oct. 3.—(INS)—Responsible British sources today had no confirmation of reports broadcast by the Morocco and Algiers radio that powerful Allied forces have landed on Crete and smaller islands between northern Greece and the Peloponnese.

The unsubstantiated broadcasts said that Allied naval units supported the landings.

G. N. C. A. Answers Many Questions About New Castle

How many people are employed in New Castle? What were the postal receipts in 1943? Do you know anything of the McBride family that lived in New Castle back in 1904? What kind of labor market does New Castle have? What kind of schools does the city have, is there a plant here that can manufacture articulated whinn-whams?

You don't know the answers to all of the questions of course. But there is an office in New Castle where such questions are all a part of the day's work, where the answers are supplied and where the staff is occupied eight or nine hours per day digging out information, answering questions, and doing a job of selling New Castle to the outside world that is being done well.

It's The G. N. C. A. — That storehouse of information is the Greater New Castle Association, located in the Castleton Hotel. Not a day passes but Roger W. Jewett, the executive vice president, is confronted with new questions, new problems, new matters for research and thus far few if any seeking information have gone away unanswered.

By now the G. N. C. A. has become the spark plug or the carburetor of both of the civic engine called New Castle. In commercial organization it occupies an unusual place. It is a Chamber of Commerce with wider horizons than the average chamber. In the directorate of the G. N. C. A. are represented every walk of life, labor, industry, commerce, transportation, education, fraternal organizations, in short all of the city. As a result when problems of policy are before the directorate for action the officers get a composite view of the varied lines.

Few civic activities but have their roots in the G. N. C. A. offices. Perhaps the number one project just now is post war planning. This has already been given a lot of thought, a lot of research and a lot of work. Large as is the post-war problem, many other ventures are handled through the G. N. C. A.

War Bonds
Another big job is the war bond drives, of which number six is coming up soon. The detail required for a campaign, the organization and the hard work entailed is amazing but somehow they are all handled in stride and never to the detriment of many other problems.

Housing is a problem that has been given a lot of attention. A survey was conducted, a campaign to have homes converted into multiple housing units was had, and as a result the housing situation in New Castle is in much better shape than it would have been had not the association taken the matter up.

Most of the requests for information have some bearing upon New Castle, its people or industries. But now and then some queer request comes in. One in point was that of a gentleman from another city who wrote the G. N. C. A. asking if it would find out how Mr. X was getting enough gasoline to take the wife of the questioner out on trips when he the questioner was not at home. That one hardly scaled as a civic responsibility and was passed up.

The G. N. C. A. has proven its right to existence. It is the agent of the people at large, the representative of the city in matters pertaining to industry, commerce, labor or what have you.

It is a combination of salesman, Mr. Anthony and Information Please. It has a large job to do but it is doing it.

Victor McLaglen Mystery Witness

SALINAS, Cal., Oct. 3.—(INS)—Victor McLaglen, the movie star, proved on Monday to be District Attorney Anthony Brazil's "mystery witness" in the murder trial of socialite Frances Andrews, 38, accused of shooting to death 19-year-old Jay Lovett.

It was at McLaglen's ranch near Fresno that Mrs. Andrews' husband, Frank, then a corporal in the army, and Lawrence Tibbett Jr., were on the night young Lovett's body was found on a road with a bullet hole in his temple some 250 yards from the Andrews' ranch in Carmel valley.

Other than to admit he had been subpoenaed by Brazil, McLaglen had little to say as the third week of the trial opened before a superior court jury of eight women and four men.

Tibbett Jr., also has been called as a prosecution witness.

Rotarians Have Business Session

Reports Of Committees Occupy Attention Of Club Members At Luncheon Meeting Monday

New Castle Rotary Club members were occupied with the reports of committees at their business session following the luncheon Monday noon, in The Castleton.

As special guests, the club had Tech. Sgt. Sam Dejeet, who served overseas with the 303rd Ordnance Regiment, attached to a Tank unit; and Tech. Sgt. Michael Cammarata, who was with General Eisenhower's supreme headquarters.

Both are being readjusted for service at the Deshon Hospital Annex here.

DONATION DAY NEEDS LISTED

Gathering Of Food At Almira Home Includes Staples, Money, Jellies

Every time the menu at Almira Home calls for fruit to be served at a meal, nine quarts of fruit are needed for that meal. This gives one measure of the quantity of canned goods, staple groceries, and food of all kinds that the Almira Home uses.

One day each year the home designates as Donation Day—this year it will be Wednesday, October 25—when individuals and organizations contribute foodstuffs to help stock its larder. A minimum of 59-130 meals are served in the course of a year to the 54 residents and members of the staff. As an annual custom it is on the ingathering day that friends give a boost to the supply of provender on Almira Home's shelves.

For housewives engaged in canning who wish to contribute, the home will gladly furnish empty jars to be filled and returned. Potatoes, apples, bread flour, pastry flour, dried navy and lima beans, onions, and rice, are all staples of which the home uses a large quantity.

During the past several years donations of money have largely supplanted the gifts of sacks of sugar that were formerly customarily given.

Glasses of jelly and preserves are particularly welcomed on Donation Day as it takes hundreds of glasses to supply the table at the home.

Mrs. W. Walter Braham is chairman of the Donation Day committee. Serving with her are Mrs. R. J. Robison and Mrs. Charles Jacquish.

St. John's Sodality Activities Planned

Our Lady Of Victory Sodality Plan Social Event On Sunday, October 15

General meeting of the Lady of Victory of St. John the Baptist church, met Sunday at 4 o'clock in the church, and activities to be held in October were planned.

Sodalists plan to recite the rosary during this month, and also the rosary at home with their families. The story of the Annunciation and the Lady of Fatima were read.

Social chairman, Marian Joseph explained character building and distributed copies of ejaculations used to build character. Faith, Hope and Charity pamphlets will be distributed by the Eucharistic chairman. The Sodality will attend the Holy Hour at St. Michael's church, October 8, sponsored by the L. C. U. S.

The rosary procession will be held Sunday after mass in honor of Mary, Queen of the Holy Rosary. On October 29, Feast of the Christ the King, will be held with the parish taking part, and the hymns sung by Sodality. Preparations will begin for an exhibition for Catholic books and pamphlets, to be held during book week in November. A social event is planned for October 15.

Educators Will Meet Wednesday For Discussions

HARRISBURG, Oct. 3.—(INS)—Several thousand delegates were expected to attend the two-day annual education congress at Harrisburg tomorrow to discuss veteran educational programs and financial readjustments.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas said an address will be made during the first session by Dr. Weir C. Ketter, president of Grove City college and member of Gov. Edward Martin's post-war planning commission. A half-hour concert of the capella choir of the Overbrook School for the Blind will precede him.

George Young, of Washington, Pa., chairman of the state school commission, will submit studies of his group Thursday.

Other speakers will include: Franklin Zeran of Washington, D. C., of the U. S. Office of Education; Col. John Andrews, of Washington, national selective service official; F. A. Pitkin, of Harrisburg, state planning board director; Kenneth S. Covey, of Pittsburgh, and H. J. Crosson, of Philadelphia, Veterans Administration representatives.

"COVERING ARMY CAMPS AND SHIPYARDS PILES UP BIG MILEAGE FAST..."

"Sure glad I've got a FORD!"

"ON THE ROAD NEARLY ALL THE TIME, my work for the armed services requires me to keep on schedule without fail. My 1940 Ford Sedan has carried me, reliably and comfortably, more than a third of a million miles."

"REPAIR COSTS HAVE BEEN NEGLIGIBLE—only one major overhauling in four years and that was after it had gone 230,000 miles! Naturally I'm a booster for Ford cars. I've owned three of them."

"MY CAR GETS THE BEST OF SERVICE REGULARLY. Being a lubrication specialist, I know what neglect can do to any car. With Ford Protective Service I feel sure my car is good for another 200,000 miles."

says A. A. WREN, Lubrication Specialist
Columbia, South Carolina

Millions of Americans can tell you how reliably and economically their Ford cars have carried them through thick and thin. When new cars can be built and bought freely again, your choice of a new Ford car will be backed by evidence you can verify for yourself on any street or highway in the nation. It will be your positive assurance that the smart style, performance, and comfort of your new Ford will be matched by enduring thrift and rugged stamina.

IT'S NO CIRCUS!

They may look like daring young men on the flying trapeze. But they're electric linemen, fifty feet in the air, with no net underneath.

It's tough enough up there on a sunny summer day. It's much worse on a wet black night—or when everything's slippery with sleet. But the job must be done. It's part of giving you good electric service.

Fortunately, there are men who have the courage and skill to do it. Just as there are other men who control complicated switchboards in lightning storms, or keep a careful watch on giant turbines, or crawl in hot boilers to make repairs.

These folks know what to do because they've been doing it a long time. Men and women grow up in the electric light and power business. It takes years to become a power-plant engineer. Lineman—load dispatcher—service man—almost every job is specialized and technical.

The value of this practical experience—and of sound business management—has been dramatically proved by war. In spite of shortages of many essentials, there is no shortage of electricity—and it is still sold at low pre-war prices!

GOVERNOR DEWEY TO MAKE EXTRA ADDRESS TONIGHT

President To Speak Thursday Night, Lively Political Week Forecast

By LEO W. O'BRIEN (U.S.S. Staff Correspondent)

ALBANY, Oct. 3.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will turn his campaign fire upon the federal tax system tonight in a previously unscheduled nationwide radio speech.

The Republican presidential nominee, who will broadcast directly from the executive mansion in Albany, will be heard on the Mutual network from 8:45 to 9 p.m. (EWT).

He is expected to charge that the existing tax system of the United States threatens business and that its revision is necessary to insure post-war opportunities and jobs.

During several of his September speeches he said that such revision would follow Republican victory in November.

Gov. Dewey's decision to deliver a radio talk tonight, only four days prior to his October 7 speech at Charleston, W. Va., was said to be due to belief that it would be politically unwise to remain away from the firing line too long.

Lively Week

With two Dewey speeches scheduled this week and President Roosevelt prepared to deliver his second campaign talk on Thursday night, the voters will be in for a lively week.

During his numerous conferences with businessmen in cities throughout the country last month, Gov. Dewey was told that taxes are a major headache. From those conferences he has worked out plans for changing the tax structure, which may be announced by him tonight.

One of Mr. Dewey's first acts as governor of New York state was to set his experts at work on a program for "humanization" of the state tax structure. Laws to that end have been placed upon the statute books since.

In his recent San Francisco speech, the GOP nominee, discussing what government can do to provide opportunities and jobs, said:

"Our repressive tax laws, which now operate to penalize incentive and to put a brake on the kind of enterprise that makes jobs opportunities, must be drastically revised. We must have the kind of taxes that do not discourage, but encourage men to start new businesses and to expand old businesses."

Individual Sales Set For War Bonds

Five Of Total Of Fourteen Billion To Be Individual Sales

Individual purchases of war bonds in the sixth war loan drive have been set at five billion dollars out of a grand total of 14 billion. It was announced today from the Greater New Castle Association offices, which are headquarters for the campaign in this county. Of the five billion, two and a half billion will be "E" bonds and two and a half other sales to individuals.

The sixth campaign opens November 20 and extends through December 16 with the accounting period running from November 1 to December 31.

In Lawrence county the co-chairmen of the campaign will again be Judge W. Walter Brahm and Joel S. McKee. Other officials of the campaign will be named shortly.

Sgt. Merle Brown Has 50 Missions

Winner of the Purple Heart and the air medal with three oak leaf clusters, Staff Sgt. Merle E. Brown of the Butler road has completed 50 missions as a waist gunner in a B-24 bomber based in Italy, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Brown.

Before going overseas, Staff Sgt. Brown was an aerial gunnery instructor at Tyndall Field, Fla. A brother, Pfc. David E. Brown, is stationed in New Guinea.

The county commissioners on Tuesday discussed the matter of returning service men and ex-servicemen to military hospitals when they are found in New Castle in need of return. In past months the commissioners have arranged to send back to hospitals men who have come to New Castle, and in some cases have been placed in the county jail for their own good.

The number of cases is increasing and the commissioners feel, as does County Controller Andrew W. Dodds that the expense would be borne by the Federal government instead of the county. The matter will be investigated.

Food Problems Are Discussed At Conference

HARRISBURG, Oct. 3.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's 1945 food production goals and draft deferments for agricultural workers were to highlight the closing session today of the State Agricultural Adjustment Agency's two-day postwar conference at the State Capitol.

Sixty-seven AAA agents attending the initial meeting heard A. W. Manchester, director of the AAA northeast division, express concern after agricultural trade balances after the war.

Committeemen expressed concern over the food demands of foreign countries and whether they "would be able to make desirable importations in a two-way trade system."

"Until these problems are worked out or until definite policies are established for international relief," an AAA announcement stated, "no accurate estimates can be made either to relieve surpluses of food in this country or relieve the hunger of starving millions abroad."

Orvis V. Wells, agricultural economist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, told the AAA officials the current national farm production was 30 per cent above the pre-war average while farm prices were approximately 15 per cent over parity.

Col. John McI. Smith, deputy director of State Selective Service, was slated to address the agents during the afternoon session and outline farm draft deferment policies.

Japs Claim New Landings Made On East China Coast

Jap Headquarters Announce Troops Advancing On Foochow, Fukien Capital

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—(INS)—A Japanese headquarters communique said today that Jap forces carried out surprise landings on a stronghold on the coast of the East China sea last Friday and were now advancing toward Foochow, capital of China's Fukien province.

Foochow is situated on the western side of the narrow Formosa straits about 150 miles from the northern end of the Japanese island of Formosa.

In a broadcast to Japanese areas, monitored by the Federal Communications Commission, the Tokyo radio reported the landings in the following communique:

"Our forces which are aiming for the capitulation of the vicinity of Foochow, stronghold on the coast of the East China sea, carried out surprise landings on the coast north-east of this spot at dawn, September 27, under close cooperation of army and navy forces. They are now advancing toward Foochow."

Relieve that Tormenting PIN-WORM ITCH

Too Embarrassing to Talk About!

It is no longer necessary to put up with the trouble caused by Pin-Worms. Don't let your child or yourself suffer that tormenting, embarrassing rectal itching, or take chances with the internal distress. Medical science has now discovered a new and highly effective way to deal with this stubborn and troublesome infection. This important scientific discovery is a remarkable drug known as gentian violet. It is the vital element in P-W, the new Pin-Worm treatment developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines. P-W tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to destroy the ugly creatures.

Watch for the warning signs: itching nose and seat, uneasy stomach, bed-wetting, uneven appetite. Remember that now there is a treatment that works on Pin-Worms as no old-fashioned "worm syrup" or "worm candy" could. So if you even suspect Pin-Worms, get a box of P-W right away, and follow the directions carefully. P-W means Pin-Worm relief!

Saturday Is Last Day To Register

HARRISBURG, Oct. 3.—(INS)—The last day to register and declare that "independents and old-line Democrats" were uniting with the GOP as a protest against "continued debauchery" of the federal government.

"It is the duty of every citizen interested in good government to cast a vote against the fiasco of New Deal rule," Taylor said in a statement at Harrisburg. "Only by registering and voting can the people of this commonwealth express their opposition to the New Deal's wayward policies of government."

"All over the state, independents and old-line Democrats are joining forces with us to protest against continued debauchery of federal government," Taylor asserted.

St. Louis Fans
Awaiting Series
Start WednesdaySt. Louis Cardinals Reign Favorites To Whip Fellow Townsman In Classic

By DAVID J. WALSH

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—All was again serene and quiet along the banks of the river that hard-shell Missourians affectionately call the "Big Muddy" with the fire and cheer of Sunday's blather-ski finish to the accompaniment of the St. Louis Browns' first American League pennant now but a pleasurable, though receding, memory.

That, yes, and only tomorrow's world series opening of an all-St. Louis production apparently managing to remind the town that just two days ago, men magnificent forgot their age and, for a few delirious hours, were boys again.

Last night, though, you could have found the 16-pound hammer with abandon in front of the Hotel Jefferson without seriously maiming anybody but the doorman, a couple of night-life cab drivers and the band of motley array of pedestrians on 12th Street.

Barring the pedestrians, it might even have been a good idea.

Enthusiasm Wanes

Anyhow, the tide of civic passion had rushed forth abruptly and violently like nothing you'd ever seen before. And as suddenly had subsided. It had spent itself quite utterly to be exact, leaving only the 7th all-city world series and the desultory talk of those who'd like to "take" the odds on the Browns. But wondered if they dared.

Their talk of the "hex" the Browns seemed to exert upon their National League neighbors at Sportsman's Park in various city series of the past. There was further prattle of the Cardinals, having just arrived from the east, not being "ready."

As any chump knows, an ordinary club "stiff" can beat a champion if the latter isn't right and the other one is all agog with the habit of winning.

The price on the series, however, remained unchanged at 1-2 on the Cards in spite of these many ideas. Nor did they change anything radically about the general betting situation, which called for 8-5 against the Browns, 11-20 on the Cardinals in the first game and 17-10 against the Browns at the same time, these variations in figures representing the "books" customary shading on the price in their favor.

HERE AND THERE

SPORT history shows that some times more than one member of a family appears in the spotlight with more than ordinary notice. For middleweights, Mike and Tommy Gibbons, middleweight and heavyweight and the Attles, Abe and Monte. Of course there were the Jeffries but Bill never got far—just about as far as did Caesar Attel who tossed away the gloves for the jewelry business. This leads the light of illustration Jim, formerly of Iowa is playing end for Great Lakes; Tom is chartering at Ohio State and Mike is barking signals at Linsly Military Institute, Wheeling.

Officials of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association hope to have a big list of entries in the dog trials to be run Saturday over their course at Harbor bridge. Because a dog-owner is not a member does not imply he or she cannot enter their dog or dogs. H. N. Drip, secretary, has announced that non-members are invited to run their dogs. Frank Cowmeadow will assume charge of the bird dogs. Bob Lamore and Dick Rogers will have no prizes.

Manager Hal Gruber of the New York Giants' Appalachian farm at Bristol has demonstrated that a pilot doesn't have to have his team in first place to gain all-star recognition. Until this year, Gruber's Bristol twins have been pennant winners. But the current season has seen them off the beam. However, Gruber has been named manager of the league's annual all-star team for the third consecutive year, votes being cast by the loop writers and managers. Usually, the skipper of a pennant winner gets a lot of recognition as the all-star manager, but Gruber retained his following with a club that was out of the race.

As a general rule, it is the cellar-dwelling club that experiences managerial changes during the course of a season, but the Wilmington Blue Rocks of the Inter-State League have reversed the order. Standing in first place most of the year and the heavy favorite to cop the pennant, the Blue Rocks got their third manager of the year last Sunday.

First, Dutch Dorman lost control of himself and assaulted an umpire, drawing a year's suspension. He was replaced by Ray Brubaker, called in from Bradford of the Pony League.

The Blue Rocks hit first place the day Brubaker took over and only a complete flop will keep them from copping the pennant. But Brubaker won't be around for the celebration. He's a school teacher out in Indiana and had to leave for class room duty.

Cy Morgan, scout for the parent Phillies, stepped in as the third Wilmington leader of the year and he's in line to enjoy the pennant gravy.

Bald and near 40, Catcher Bill Steinke has reached the goal he abandoned long ago. The New York Yankees, shorn of Rolfe Hemsley by a call to the services, have taken Steinke away from his job managing Portsmouth of the Piedmont League and installed him as receiver. Steinke has been playing and managing in the minors since 1925. He got a couple of tumbles from the Detroit Tigers and Pittsburgh Pirates, but he wasn't around long enough to get a laundry done.

Resigned to a minor league career, he plugged along and suddenly finds himself squatting in the spot occupied so long by Bill Dickey. Inidentally, his departure made possible a managerial start for Jimmy Fox, who has succeeded him as Portsmouth pilot. The navy really stirred up something when it took Rolfe Hemsley.

Detroit Tickets
Going To Salvage

DETROIT, Oct. 3.—(INS)—The Detroit Tigers' pennant hopes literally became that much waste paper today.

The Tigers ordered five sets of world series tickets, or two tons of paper, before the Washington Senators crossed them up and the St. Louis Browns emerged as pennant winners.

The two tons of waste would be series tickets goes to the Wayne county salvage committee tomorrow. Jack Zeller, general manager, will turn over the tickets to the committee which will send them to the paper mills.

Podgorski Named As Lafayette Captain

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 3.—(INS)—Edward Podgorski, of Wilkes-Barre, veteran tackle of the Lafayette College football team, will be captain of the Maroon eleven this year, head coach Ben Wolfson has announced.

Podgorski, only senior on the Maroon squad, succeeded Bill Maceo, who was elected captain at the end of last season but entered the army last month.

Final Rehearsals
For Big Series

Southworth And Sewell Will Reveal
Starting Pitchers At End Of Workout

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 3.—(INS)—Pitching selections for tomorrow's opening game of the all-St. Louis world series between the Browns and the Cardinals probably will be made this afternoon, the rival managers indicated today.

The Browns were to get in their final workout under Manager Luke Sewell between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. and Manager Billy Southworth was to lead his Cardinals onto the Sportsman's park diamond at 2 p. m.

The pilots were expected to reveal their series starting pitching after their workouts.

Sportsman's park, scene of the seven or less games of the series, has been decorated for the occasion; bare spots in the infield have been re-turfed and temporary seats erected to swell the seating capacity to around 35,000.

Judge Landis Not
To Attend Series

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—(INS)—A three-man board will represent the ailing Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, when the world series gets underway in St. Louis tomorrow.

An announcement from the commissioner's office said the judge would be unable to attend the series because of illness which while not serious prohibits him from traveling. He is 78 years old.

The presidents of the two leagues, Will Harridge of the American and Ford Frick of the National, along with Leslie M. O'Connor, secretary and treasurer for the commissioner's office, were named to represent Judge Landis. They will control and direct the games and determine all questions which arise, except those on which the decision can be deferred until after the series.

Radio Will Carry
1944 World Series

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—(INS)—Citizens and service men and women will again be able to hear a play-by-play description of the world series this year.

The 1944 classic between the St. Louis teams, the Browns and the Cardinals, will be broadcast over the Mutual Broadcasting system with 400 stations in the United States, Canada and Cuba airing it. Broadcast will begin at 1:45 p. m. CWT short wave stations will carry the accounts to most of the places abroad where American service men and women are stationed.

Bill Slater and Don Murphy will give play-by-play reports with will cover during the night.

Revolver Club To Hold Shoot Tonight

Sportsmen's Revolver club will hold their weekly meeting at eight o'clock tonight in the Cathedral practice and qualifications along with an interstate match will be held. Last week the local club out-shot Youngstown police 1955-1905 and will shoot against them at Youngstown later this week. Club Secretary Charles Schweinsberg announces the club is willing to accept matches. Next Tuesday basic training in fire-arms will get under way.

Pirates Split Up
Second Place Cash

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3.—(INS)—Pittsburgh's second-place Pirates on Monday voted all the players in the club full shares in their split of the coming world series money.

This included Lloyd Waner, picked up as a free agent; Chauff Astor, the property custodian; Dr. Charles A. Jorgensen, trainer, and S. E. Vatters, traveling secretary. Joim Fogarty, the groundskeeper, was voted one-half shares, and quarter shares went to the batboy and the clubhouse.

Brownies-Cards
Ready To Open
Series At Home

Many Believe Browns Have Necessary Strength To Defeat Cards In Series

PITCHING STAFFS
ARE BOTH STRONG

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 3.—A team that probably is the second best in the American league and the third best in baseball is fixing to meet and quite likely beat the prewar calibre Cardinals in the all-St. Louis world series starting Wednesday.

This would be the Browns, winners of their first pennant and at the moment hotter than a howitzer. When they completed a sweep of the four-game New York Yankees series in the gloaming Sunday their triumph was the 11th in their last 13 games and put them a full game ahead of the Detroit Tigers, who probably are a better all-around ball club according to American league standards. It also put them in this forthcoming series with the Cardinals, who undoubtedly are a better club according to any standards. In fact they look like the nearest thing to the old days that anybody has seen since so many of the better players got mixed in the shooting scraps across the oceans.

Browns Have Knock

Nevertheless, good, bad or indifferent, the Browns will take a lot of beating come Wednesday and thereafter until the seven or less games with the Cards have been dispensed with at Sportsman's Park, the local band-box which will be the scene of this renewal of the so-called fall classic.

You can't see how the Browns can win. But they do, or have been. Ask the Yanks, who blew their three-year reign here in the final scintillating clashes of the year, and looked pretty bad doing it. Sunday, for instance, the Browns spotted the Yanks two runs, then tied it up when Mike Kreevich singled and Chet Laabs, an erstwhile Detroit castoff, homered. A Kreevich single and Laabs' second homer put the Browns in front and there went the pennant.

Cardinals Are Tough

Vern Stephens homered later to make the final outcome 5 to 2, but by that time the Tigers long since had been whipped by the Washington Senators and, actually, the Yanks had been whipped by the Browns.

The Cards will be tougher. They may be so much tougher that the whole thing will look plain silly, but the Browns don't know when they are whipped—as they seemed to be several times lately only to bounce back—and that kind of a team can be hard to take.

They know they will have to beat big Mort Cooper in the first game of the world series. He is a virtual pinch to start the festivities. For the Cards, who then will probably go with Ted Wilks and Harry Brecheen, then come again with Cooper. Max Lanier may not get a starting berth for three sound reasons: (1) He has been in a losing streak. (2) He has been ailing and (3) The Browns are predominantly right-handed swingers and he's a southpaw.

The Cards trio of probable starters has been coasting along without the slightest strain since their early National league pennant victory and will be rested and fresh. The Browns may be a little weary of it all, considering the finish they made, but will have had time enough to get ready. Their probable opening game hurler is Jack Kramer to be followed in doubtful order by Nelson Potter and Denny Galehouse, winner of last year's National league pennant-clinch Sunday they are all right-handers.

Basera-Williams
Battle To Draw

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—(INS)—Jose Basera, 155 lb. middleweight from Puerto Rico, and Holman Williams, 159 lb., of Chicago, fought a listless 10-round draw last night in the feature bout of a boxing card which drew only a meagre paid attendance of 4,815 to Philadelphia's convention hall.

In the eight-round semi-windup, Jackie Leamus, 133 lb., of New York, won a split decision over Eddie Gosa, 132 lb., of Philadelphia.

Altoona Lions
Here On Friday

After Lapse Of 12 Years Altoona And New Castle
Grids To Battle

Altoona High school Lions football team will come to New Castle Friday night to resume a series on the gridiron that ended 12 years ago when all was serene in an unsuspecting world. The game will be Class AA number four for New Castle. The kickoff is slated for 8 o'clock.

New Castle and Altoona have played two previous games one here, one there. The series is even at one apiece. The Altoona beat New Castle here in 1931, 13 to 7, and New Castle returned the compliment the following year at Altoona, and then the series ended.

Flora In Backfield

Altoona comes up to this game with two previous 1944 wins on the books, over Boswell and West- inghouse, while New Castle has not fared too well, winning from Butler only in four previous starts.

Head Coach Phil Brudenbaugh put the New Castle team through a workout at the stadium Monday and had Sammy Flora at left-half in place of the injured "Buzzy" Panella. Incidentally Flora was a sub half-back last year and received a broken arm in the Beaver Falls game.

Washington High
Plays At Campbell

George Washington junior high football team, with a win over Ellwood City junior high already chalked up, will go to Campbell on Thursday afternoon for the second game on the 1944 card. The kickoff will take place at 3:30 o'clock, it was announced.

CAMPFIRE

OTHER FISH DUCKS

When a hunter mentions "fish ducks" you're pretty safe in assuming that he refers to one or more of the three mergansers, but several other species of wildfowl have been designated by the derogatory term. All of these belong to the diving duck rather than to the puddle duck clan, and some of them at times, aren't fish ducks at all, but palatable table birds. It all depends upon what they've been feeding.

Rank Eating

To call a butter-ball a fish duck would, in some sections of the country, cause a lifting of eyebrows and speculation as to whether you knew what you were talking about. Yet the butter-ball otherwise known as the spirit duck, buffle-head, dipper, and butter duck, sometimes is as rank eating as any merganser, though there isn't nearly as much of him. Ordinarily two-thirds of small fish, mollusks, nymphs of various aquatic insects, leeches, grasshoppers and similar delicacies, but sometimes he apparently emphasizes the shellfish end of the diet and his flesh becomes very fishy.

Flesh Unpalatable

The butter-ball's miniature golden-eye in appearance, and many of his habits are similar to those of his larger counterpart. When you accuse the golden-eye of being a fish duck, however, you won't stir so much argument, since his flesh is often notoriously unpalatable, though at times it's worse than at others.

The golden-eye's menu includes tadpoles, mollusks, crayfish and small fish, but sometimes, after a period of feeding upon insects and their larvae and upon succulent aquatic plants he's not bud eating when properly cooked.

Fall Migrants

Both the butter-ball and the golden-eye nest in trees and both are associated in the duck hunter's mind with wide expanse of open water and stormy weather. They're early spring and late fall migrants, but sometimes the golden-eye remains in northern waters throughout the winter; the butter-ball does so only rarely.

The old-squaw and the three scoters, white-winged, surf and American, also properly fall into the fish duck category. They're better known on the seacoasts than in the interior, though all are infrequent visitors to the Great Lakes and other inland waters.

Redheads Not Best Fare

These "other fish ducks" are not alone among webfoot other than the mergansers to prove rather on the off side at times so far as palatability is concerned. Early season redheads sometimes are not the best of fare because they are juveniles birds, underdeveloped and thus in poor flesh and plumage.

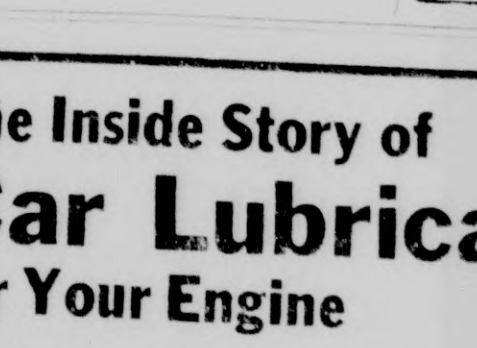

And Dr. T. S. Roberts says of the prized canvas-back that "when this birds have been feeding on wild celery in the fall the flesh has a delicious rich flavor but by many the lighter-colored, more delicately flavored meat of such ducks as the mallard and teal is preferred. When served frequently the flesh of the surface-feeding ducks is better borne by the average stomach than the darker-colored, more gamey flesh of the diving ducks."

The "Step Pyramid" of Egypt is estimated to be 6,000 years old, making it the oldest large structure in the world.

Hitler Seeking To Build Huge Plant In Caves

By PIERRE J. HUSS
U. S. Staff Correspondent

WITH THE U. S. THIRD ARMY
France, Oct. 1.—Delayed—Adolf Hitler is making desperate efforts to put his airplane factories underground where they will be safe even from the heaviest allied air attacks.

It was revealed today when U. S. third army discovered a huge plant under construction in an iron mine at Alange.

Forty miles of tunnels were being converted into a factory which would have turned out at least 1,000 Messerschmitts a month, but the Germans were driven from the area, some miles west of Thionville, before its completion.

The location of the plant was chosen six months ago by Willi Messerschmitt after his plant at Augsburg, in southern Germany, was completely destroyed by allied bombs.

Vast Underground Plant
His vast underground plant at Alange had virtually the same floor plan as the Augsburg factory and obviously was designed to turn out complete planes on an assembly line that would have employed some 10 or 12 thousand "slave workers" when production reached its peak.

Messerschmitt's blue prints for his underground plant were approved by Hitler in May and production was scheduled to start by Oct. 20.

Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering appointed a Herr Patzoldt as the taskmaster who cracked a merciless whip over some 1,000 kidnaped workers engaged in the initial construction. As Berlin increased its demands on Patzoldt for speed, he conscripted all the labor available in the Alange area.

Labor Under Terrific Conditions
Russian and French workers labored at the side of numerous transplanted Germans under terrific conditions.

The mine, which has one of the biggest iron ore veins in Europe, was sealed off when work began under strictest secrecy.

The French forces of the interior sent the Germans into a panic Sept. 1 with false rumors American forces were on their way. Many officials fled the area, taking their models but leaving the blueprints behind.

The Nazis returned when they learned the report was a hoax, but left of their own initiative Sept. 7 when the sounds of advancing American guns became audible.

In their haste the Germans left behind several billion marks worth of equipment and supplies.

S-Sgt. John Koch Cites Experiences

Completes 61 Missions With Army Air Force Within Ten Months Overseas

Staff Sgt. John Koch, son of Mrs. Helen Koch, of 1206 South Jefferson street, has completed 10 months of service with the 15th U. S. Army Air Force stationed somewhere in Italy and arrived home to spend a 24-day furlough here.

The youthful flyer is a summer in the turret ball of a Liberator B-24 and has successfully completed 61 missions. His experiences unfold as a page of thrilling adventure stories, but to Sgt. Koch, who is really a very modest young man, they are just everyday occurrences "over there", and the only thing was to get the job finished.

Sgt. Koch has been awarded the Air Medal with Oak Leaf Clusters, the D. P. C., and early in April of this year he received the Medal of the Purple Heart for wounds received when flying over Munich. Fortunately the wounds were not serious.

One of the thrilling experiences related in a matter-of-fact manner by the young summer happened when their Liberator was hit over southern Germany and the crew flew far back into Yugoslavia before bailing out. The entire crew was saved, only to become separated. The boys were able to get back to their base.

Sgt. Koch enlisted in the R. C. A. F. in 1942 and was later transferred to the Army Air Force. After a year's training in the States he was sent to England and later to Italy, and had been overseas for 10 months.

Sgt. Koch reluctantly admitted that he logged three German fighters, two at the same time, over Munich and one over Ploesti, the Romanian oil fields. He also took part in the invasion in southern France.

At the completion of his furlough he will report to Atlantic City for a brief rest before being assigned new duties.

Would Keep Alive German Industry

Senator Kilgore Of West Virginia
Favors German Industry
On New Basis

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(INS)—Sen. Harley Kilgore (D., W. Va.), chairman of a Senate military affairs sub-committee investigating international cartels, recommended reorganization of German industry as a prime requisite to peace.

Declaring that economics are more important than territorial readjustments, Kilgore proposed to break up huge German business trusts and distribute interests in corporations of Nazi leaders and collaborators to the soldiers and other people in Germany.

"Germany under Nazi rule was controlled by eight or nine big industrial trusts," he said. "The real basis for peace is to break them up into individual industries."

Have Proper Control
"I would take the ownership of the war criminals in these trusts and distribute the stock to the workers and soldiers. Then I would knock out the international cartel system in which Germany led."

Seizure of corporations, Kilgore said, should include those of Nazis in Sweden and other countries. Part of the proceeds could be used in rehabilitation of ruined countries, he said.

"You can't convert an industrial nation such as Germany into an agricultural nation," he declared.

"Territorial questions should be settled on a basis of natural boundaries. You can't put German-speaking populations in France, for example, and expect to keep the peace."

"I favor a peace with appropriate punishment for war criminals, but a peace which will let human beings go ahead and live."

Altogether more people are probably affected by malaria than by any other known disease. In 1931 nearly 18,000,000 people were reported to the League of Nations to be under treatment for malaria, yet the number of those going without treatment was far greater.
